Get shaved at the new barber shop.*

Mr. J. A. Kingsbury, of Casa Grande, has gone to Kansas City on business.

For single or double team harness write H. Talbot, Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. J. B. Remy has again placed THE ENTERPRISE under obligations for a supply of choice fruits.

For stock saddles, double or single cinch, write H. Talbot, Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. G. Guiliani has the thanks of THE ENTERPRISE for a lot of fine peaches and grapes.

Mrs. W. T. Day, wife of Superintendent Day, of the Vekol, has gone to California for a visit of a few weeks.

Mr. Jos. Connors got home this week from a prospecting trip of four months in the White mountains, Apache country.

Mr. H. G. Ballou presented THE ENTERPRISE with some of his big watermelons, last Saturday. They were huge and toothsome.

Messieurs Keating, Weedin and Bellamy, and their families, got home Saturday evening from a visit to the Pinal mountains.

Mr. A. F. Bellamy has leased Mr. Fabien Moreau's stock ranch, near the Cottonwoods, for a term of five years. He went up last Tuesday to take possession.

Messrs. G. G. Gonzalez, W. E. Guild, Richard Brady, Joe Fryer, F. W. Stillman and L. E. Hadley have gone to the Santa Catalina mountains for a week's vacation.

Owing to insufficiency of evidence, E. H. Williams, driver of the stage between De Noon and Silver King, was discharged from custody last Monday. He claims to have been robbed of $425 entrusted to his care for delivery at Silver King.

Wm. Mason, a former inmate of the insane asylum, was examined on Thursday and again committed to that institution. He is subject to fits of epilepsy which are followed by acute mania during which he becomes dangerous.

Mr. H. Bushman arrived from Tucson yesterday and was taken to the Buttes with his camera to take several views of interesting objects in that vicinity for use of the committee preparing data for the special senate committee.

Mr. R. H. Chamberlain came down from De Noon on Wednesday. He is preparing to sink a shaft on a mining claim near the Reymert mines and on the same ledge, owned by him. He will go down a hundred feet and cross-cut the ledge. Assays from the eight-foot vein give 37 1/2 ounces in silver.

While rustication in the Pinal mountains above Pioneer, Mr. A. F. Bellamy located a wide ledge of gold ore from which he washed indisputable evidences of value. It is a red, decomposed ore and if careful tests show sufficient encouragement, the ledge will be opened in a short time.

The people in Florence are leaving nothing undone to secure all the information possible for the use of the senatorial irrigation committee when it arrives in the Territory. On Saturday Mr. Henry Buchman, the photographer, received a letter from the committee. They are desirous of securing a large number of views of the different reservoir sites in Pinal County, and want Mr. Buchman to take his apparatus and go and take them.

The new county road to be constructed from Florence to McCallan's wash near the Halfway house, commences at the head of Main street on the north side of the Florence canal, and follows the meander of the canal until it intersects the south line of section 21, township 5 south, range 8 east, and thence follows the section line west to McCallan's wash. It will afford the farmers along the canal a convenient outlet for their properties.

From the Vekol.

Mr. A. Sciarri, of the Vekol, who has spent a week or ten days at Walker's ranch, west of Florence, was in town Monday. Mr. and Mrs. George Henshaw, Charles Eastman, and two sons of W. T. Day, all of the Vekol, have been stopping at the ranch.

Mr. Sciarri says seven men are being worked on the Great Eastern mine, which is looking splendidly. Mr. Donnan is the superintendent, and J. Hinds, a brother of Howell Hinds, is foreman.

Plenty of rich smelting ore is coming out of the Argosy, adjoining the Vekol, and a body of free milling ore has been reached that will warrant the starting of the mill in September or October.

Messrs. Jos. Cummings and A. Sciarri are the owners of the Silver Queen mine, south of the Great Eastern. They are running a new tunnel over 200 feet below the old one and are now seventy feet in the porphyry dike. They are now in decomposed quartz, with iron and green stains, and expect to encounter the ore body very soon.

A big line of Floor Matting of new and elegant designs has just been received by W. C. Smith & Co. It is the best floor-covering for this climate and special pains were taken in its selection for quality and appearance, while the price is within the reach of all.

BEATEN IN FIGHT.

The Pick-handle as a Souther of Nelly Inmate: The Jailer Fractures the Skull of a Releaser Prisoner.

Last Sunday afternoon was noted for its unusually belligerent atmosphere and very ugly boozing, and there were personal collisions of more or less gravity in various portions of town. The most serious encounter, however, took place within the county jail, and it created more local excitement than Florence has known for many a day.

During the afternoon Juan Avenenti, commonly known as "Paisano," while strongly under the influence of liquor, created a disturbance at Augustine Flores' place on Bailey street. Under Sheriff Thomas, who was eating his dinner near by, was called to the scene, when Paisano got hold of him and choked him a little. Thomas then returned to his room and brought his pistol, to the persuasion of which the disturber of the peace readily submitted and was marched to the jail.

JAILOR STOCKING'S STORY

Jailor C. B. Stocking states that the prisoner was terribly abusive, and used the vilest of vile language towards everybody present. "After he was put inside the cell door a Mexican inmate was called out, because of an enemy between him and Paisano that would surely end in a fight. As the door was being closed Paisano caught it and held it open and poured forth a big volley of abuse. I finally got him away, closed and locked the door. Paisano then found a club about fifteen inches long, with which he broke up everything in there and made all the prisoners climb to the top of the cells for safety. I told him if he would stop I would not put iron on him, but if he would not, I most certainly would do so.

It was then about time for the arrival of the prisoners' supper and I sent out for Hinson Thomas to help quiet Paisano down. Thomas told me if I was in Paisano would kill me. I asked him what I would do. I told him to go in and put the iron on him. Thomas took the iron and I took a pick-handle that was standing in the office and went in the door. Paisano was then talking to some one outside the window, with his back to us. He turned quickly around and raised his club to strike. I then struck with my pick-handle across his back, knocking it down on his shoulder, when the club fell to the floor. He then reached for me and I struck him another blow, this time on the head; I gave him a third blow on the head—a light blow, and he then stopped and I put the iron on him."

TWO EYE-WITNESSES.

Two eye witnesses to the clubbing give substantially the same version, as follows:

Paisano wanted to give bail and get out. He kicked at the door of the jail and asked repeatedly for Fryer. Jailor Stocking sent out for Sheriff Fryer, but not finding him the messenger brought Under Sheriff Thomas. Paisano was continually calling to be let out and was abusing almost everybody. Thomas said, "We'll fix you," and told Stocking to follow him. Stocking picked up a pick-handle, and when Thomas opened the door, went in. Paisano had his back to the door, talking with H. V. Jackson through the window. He turned to look and Stocking hit him over the head with the pick-handle and followed it with two or three more blows. Paisano fell to the floor, the blood spurting from the wounds on the head. Stocking said, "There, you son-of-a-bitch, if that don't fix you I'll give you some more." Thomas had the handcuffs and shackles. Dr. Adler was summoned when the condition of the man looked serious, and he reached the jail about twenty minutes after the man fell.

THE HOSPITAL.

Doctors found the skull fractured in the front to a more or less dangerous extent, and a severe cut on the back of the head. The man was removed to the hospital and up to the present time he has steadily improved.

Jailor Stocking was brought before Justice Miller on Wednesday morning to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court in allowing such liberties to a prisoner. His offense was overlooked by the commencing magistrate, but he insisted that in future his orders must be implicitly obeyed.

The hearing was set for Wednesday afternoon, but upon application of defendant it was postponed till August 16th, at which time it will be possible to determine the full nature of the injuries received by the wounded man.

ANCIENT VOLUMES.

Judge Jos. H. Kibbey, of this place, has several very interesting books in his valuable library, there being among them a few rare works issued soon after the art of printing was first invented. He has a large and well preserved volume printed in colors in Hamburg, in 1479, the ornamental illustrations having been done by hand. It is a book of the law ordained by the church for the temporal and ecclesiastical government of the people, and is printed upon parchment, in the Latin language. At the time of its issue printing had scarcely been scarcely thirty-five years and therefore had made but little progress. This valuable work was purchased years ago in Europe by an aunt of Mr. Kibbey's, who took lively interest in works of antiquity.

Another work, not so ancient, but still a quaint volume full of interest at the present day, is a finely illustrated book entitled "Remarks on Several Parts of Europe, Chiefly History, Antiquities and Geography of Those Countries." It was issued only three years after the discovery of America, and was compiled by J. Breval, Esq., late Fellow of Trinity College, in Cambridge, London, in 1726, and is consequently 163 years of age. Like the former work, it has received good care and is well preserved and strongly bound. Both volumes are exceedingly rare and would be difficult to duplicate.

It is natural with piano pupils to sometimes find their music lessons dry, and they become disheartened, and still worse they want to give them up. The best music with which to tone up the musical system at such a time is a lively and taking piece, and one they will be sure to like. Fischer's "Robin's Farewell," Caprice for Piano, fills the bill exactly. Price 50 cts. Iga. Fischer, Toledo, O., Publisher.

JUDGE KIBBEY.

Comments of the Territorial Press Upon His Appointment.

(Tucson Star, Dem.)
Judge Joseph Kibbey, who was yesterday appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, is a resident of Florence, where he has lived during the last year. He is a son of the Florence Canal Company. He came to Arizona from Indiana, where he was engaged in a lucrative professional practice. Judge Kibbey comes from a family of legal lights, his father being one of the most distinguished judges of the state of Indiana.

(Tucson Citizen, Rep.)

Mr. J. H. Kibbey, of Florence, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, has been appointed to the position of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona. The telegrams, however failed to designate the district to which he has been assigned, but the general impression is that he will be assigned to the Second District. He is a young man of possibly 35 years of age, a native of Indiana and a lawyer of excellent reputation. The Citizen congratulates him on his appointment.

(Tombstone Epitaph, Rep.)

By reference to the dispatches in another column it will be seen that J. H. Kibbey, of Florence, has been appointed to the position of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, and will probably take the place of Judge Porter. The writer is well acquainted with Mr. Kibbey, and can congratulate the people living in the Second Judicial District on having a gentleman of his attainments and ability to administer the law for them. When the Daily Epitaph learned of his candidacy it predicted that he would receive the appointment. The Epitaph renders congratulations to Mr. Kibbey.

(Phoenix Arizona, Dem.)

Judge Joseph H. Kibbey, who was appointed yesterday as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, has been a resident of the Territory about a year and a half and has been in Florence, where he has been interested in the Florence Canal Company. Those that know him report him as being a lawyer of more than ordinary ability and a perfect gentleman withal. It is reported that he will succeed Judge Porter in the Second Judicial District. Judge Kibbey visited Phoenix about three months ago.

(Phoenix Herald, Rep.)

The long expected appointment of a new judge for this district has excited only favorable comment. Although a stranger comparatively in the territory, Judge Kibbey has attracted the attention of our citizens who have met him, as a pleasant, intelligent gentleman. Jose M. Ochoco, of Florence, now visiting Phoenix, declares him to be socially all that could be expected. H. H. Wharton, who has recently been thrown in contact with the new Judge, confirms this opinion. There can be little doubt but that in manner he will make friends and become generally popular.

With respect to professional attainments our reporter is informed that he practiced law in Richmond, Indiana. His father was for many years a respected circuit judge in that state. On leaving the bench he associated his son in law practice with him, so that our new judge is doubtless well versed in the practical details as well as learned in the theory of the law.

During his year and a half residence in Arizona he has, as attorney and secretary of the Florence Canal Company, been compelled to study irrigation questions not only from a practical point of view, but also in the legal aspects. Such experience cannot but be valuable to a judge whose attention will be so largely called to irrigation matters.

Messrs. Baker & Campbell have known him for some time, and are doubtless best acquainted with his attainments. They are highly pleased with his appointment and confident that he will prove a very acceptable and successful judge. He is said to be between 35 and 40 years of age.

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "After a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cal. druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night and as soon as he got inside the door, he began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: 'Medicine velly fine, velly fine; all same make me feel plenty good.' Chamberlain's Pain Balm is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, pains or lame back. For sale by Thos. F. Weedin's Drug store.

Superintendent A. V. Comstock came down from the Silver King mine on Wednesday, on his way to San Francisco for a few weeks of rest. His health has not been good and a change of climate is considered desirable. Under his management the expenses of the Silver King company have been greatly reduced, a saving in the item of wood alone amounting to about $2200 per month, while the work in the mine has progressed in a highly satisfactory manner. From the lowest depth reached drifts are to be commenced at once in drilling for the ore body, and the indications are very favorable for finding it. Mr. Comstock will return from California before the close of the present month, and it is hoped his usual good health will be fully restored.

Mr. F. J. Smith, Editor of the Ft. Abercrombie, Dakota, Herald, says: "The most wonderful medicine, I have ever used, is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In case of colic it gives speedy relief. On hunting trips I have found it indispensable. Put in alkali water, it imparts a pleasant taste and prevents the painful effects which alkali water produces. I could not feel safe without it in my house." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Thos. F. Weedin.

It is rumored that the Reymert mining company are negotiating with Mr. Thos. McCallan for the purchase of his ranch six miles northeast of Florence, which is known whether they will engage in farming or build a mill there.

Judge Joseph H. Kibbey.

The welcome news reached Florence early Tuesday morning that upon the day previous President Harrison had appointed Joseph H. Kibbey, Esq., of this place, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, vice W. W. Porter, whose term expired on the 7th instant. Mr. Kibbey was at once sought by his many friends and tendered congratulations with a cordiality that attested their sincerity. It was quite generally believed by those at all acquainted with the personal relations existing between the Messrs. Kibbey, father and son, and the president, that his selection was a foregone conclusion, but no ostentatious display of the fact was made public.

Judge Joseph H. Kibbey is thirty-three years of age, is married and has two children. He was born in Wayne County, Indiana, near the Ohio line, and was educated at the Earlham College, of Richmond, Indiana. He was deputy clerk of the Wayne Circuit Court, under Col. Dudley, for four years; was admitted to practice law in 1875 but did not commence until two years later, having been appointed Register in Bankruptcy, which position he held until the law was repealed. In 1884 he was elected city attorney of Richmond and re-elected in 1886. He came to Arizona in May, 1888, as attorney for the A. L. Paine and has since represented his interests here. Upon one occasion Mr. Kibbey was the opposing counsel to the present President, and won the suit for which Mr. Harrison complimented his skill, talent and ability.

Mr. Kibbey's former prominent political position in Indiana and has always been a consistent republican since that party was organized. He was Judge of the Common Pleas Court at Richmond, Indiana, in 1865, which office he held until it was abolished in 1872. In August 1873 he was elected Judge of the Circuit Court and remained on the bench till 1885, when he engaged in the practice of law with his son, Mr. Joseph H. Kibbey. In 1856 he was a law partner of Senator Morton, remaining with him until Mr. Morton was elected Governor of Indiana. He enjoys an intimate and pleasant personal acquaintance with General Harrison, as well as his full confidence and esteem.

Since coming to Arizona Mr. Kibbey has given his whole attention to the affairs of his client, the Florence canal company, but has firmly declined other business in his profession that would divert his time and attention. He is independent of all cliques and rings and will don the ermine absolutely aloof from all influences that might prevent the free exercise of his judgment on the bench. That he will give eminent satisfaction to the people in his exalted position goes without saying.

Wants an Investigation.

The people of Florence remember Mr. Charles B. Weiser, a former resident of this place who worked some valuable mining claims at the Owl Heads and made with a death near Deeming way on his way to the Pueblo smelting works to rectify some error made in the returns for treating his ores. A letter has just come to hand from Mr. Jerome M. Weiser, 4716 Melrose street, Philadelphia, Pa., making inquiry concerning the effects left by deceased. He states that Charles started with a check of $1200 payable to Weiser & Co., which was not found on his body, but that "Joseph Goldtree, of Tucson, had the check cashed; has his watch, gun and tools." The writer further says: "Now I would like to know how he came to be possessor of those things. At one time he claimed the half of the check and at another he claimed the whole of it." The matter has been referred to the proper parties in Tucson for investigation.

Mr. George Marlow came in from Samaniego's ranch, near Santa Catalina, last Sunday. His right wrist was in a sling, having been broken by a fall from a bucking bronco occasioned by a loose cinch. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Handy, in Tucson, and Mr. Marlow returned to his home in Phoenix.

This Time It's Mica.

Paul Siebert, an old prospector has been hunting over the Maricopa mountains two months or more in search of mica, and he thinks he has found it. He has traced the deposit for 3000 feet and has taken up two full claims, each 1000 feet by 600. The mica occurs in a rock that resembles sandstone and marble both. This must be carefully split open in order not to shatter the singlass, a mistake made over two years ago by some Tucson parties working in that section.

Prices eight inches square have been obtained, clear and solid. Specimens sent to Philadelphia have so interested investors there that a party will be out next month to examine the property. They offer $4 per pound for singlass, three inches square, with an increasing scale up to $16 per pound for 8-inch sizes.—The Arizona Herald.

These claims are probably in the vicinity of a very strong vein of mica discovered by Mr. David Moe, last fall, which were located by himself, Ed. O. Smith and others of this place about two months ago. The indications point to the existence of immense bodies of mica of excellent quality that can be mined in large sized sheets. Samples brought to Florence confirm every guarded statement made by the locators, and specimens sent east elicited the most encouraging commendation of dealers in the article. It is believed that a very important and profitable industry will be developed by these recent discoveries.

For Rent.

On June 1st a fine brick store, 24x62 feet, on west side of Main street, Florence, now occupied by J. M. Ochoco. Apply to C. D. HENRY, or R. E. SLOAN.

He Fell Forty-Five Feet.

Messrs. Charles Pearman, J. T. Rose and Wm. Taylor, took a contract this week to put a brick curbing in Judge Jackson's well and commenced operations Thursday morning. A box was originally placed in the well at water level and six feet of water was below its top. One of the men found it impossible to get the box out without assistance and came up to let Mr. Pearman, who is a large and heavy man, go down to try it. The rope on the windlass was not well secured and sometimes slipped and just as Mr. Pearman started down, the rope gave a sudden twist or two, he thinking a fall inevitable, either let go or lost his footing, and fell to the entire depth of the well, one foot striking outside the box and the other in the water. His companions of course supposed he had been instantly killed by a fall of forty-five feet, and they were greatly surprised to hear him call for the rope to get out. The rope was lowered and, without other assistance, he came up in the usual way with no bones broken, but badly bruised. His most serious injury was to his back, but it is thought that a few days' rest will restore him to his usual good condition. It was a very narrow escape and he was saved by the one lucky chance in a hundred for instant death.

Mrs. Stanfield & Rogers will soon have a stock of millinery goods at their dressmaking rooms on Bailey street. The ladies are invited to call.

The Silver Reef.

Work at the Silver Reef mines is progressing as fast as possible considering the extreme hot weather. The No. 10 Knowles pump is now being put in place to handle the water in the mine. This pump will throw 120,000 gallons in ten hours. The new Ingersoll drill is working fine and doing the work in the tunnel in the most expeditious manner. A new shaft is being sunk at the mouth of the tunnel, which is developing an immense body of heretofore overlooked rich ore. This shaft will be connected with No. 1 at every level. The tunnel now being run will crosscut all three veins, and connection will also be made with No. 1, giving a large area of stopping ground which will furnish ore of fair grade for the smelter and concentrating mill now in course of erection, for years.

Shaft No. 1, in the meantime, will be driven down to the 300 and 400-level, and again crosscut, where levels will be run and the lode developed, as it is confidently expected the veins will be concentrated into one immense body and no doubt, much richer than anything yet encountered, as the ore at the deepest workings is changing to sulphates of silver.

Work is being pushed in the shaft on the east end of the Horn Silver claim and levels will be run so soon as the depth of 100 feet is reached, where large bodies of high grade ore are known to exist.

The Base Ball Game.

Considerable interest was manifested in the local base ball match last Sunday afternoon. It was the first game played by the newly organized club and it is hardly to be expected that they would show the proficiency of experienced players. Mr. H. H. Jackson was the umpire and G. Williams scored. Five innings were played, resulting in the following score:
